As soon as the temperature drops, people start getting excited up in	12
Nome, Alaska. They never go to bed at night without peeking out their	25 windows first. They want to see what the weather is doing. If a light	39
snow is falling, they know that by morning the roads will be dangerous.	52
That's where the sled dogs come into play.	60
Sled dogs are fun, peppy, medium-sized dogs. Their colors are	71 different, but they all have thick, downy coats of fur. The dogs' tails curl	85 up when they are excited.	90
There's nothing a sled dog loves more than the cold, fierce winds of	103 winter. Even though most owners build shelters for their sled dogs, the	115 dogs prefer to sleep outside. They tuck their noses into their tails. They	128 snuggle their bodies deep in the snow.	135
Sled dogs are playful, intelligent, and very vocal. They do not bark.	147
Instead, they howl like wolves. It's not uncommon for a pack of sled	160 dogs to have a group howl at sunset and sunrise.	170
A person who owns sled dogs can be sure that their sleep will be	184 disturbed on the mornings after a deep snow has fallen. The dogs will	197 be up on the roofs of their doghouses, welcoming the snow with their	210 long yowls of anticipation. "Wake up, wake up, WAKE UP!" They seem	222 to be howling. "We want to play in the snow!"	232
The two most important things in a sled dog's life are running and	245 pulling. Quite simply, that is what they are born to do.	256
A sled dog will like nothing better than to trot in front of a person on	272 skis or a sled filled with supplies. They've been known to race with their	286 owners on bikes or rollerblades. Pulling is a good way for them to get	300 exercise and stay in shape all summer long. It's also great for the dogs'	314
owners.	315
Together the dog and person team can romp and play in many	327 ways during the snowless months. Nothing beats the thrill, however, of	338 winter's return and a dog sled run through the snow.
